richard stallman. rms. if you've spent time in tech, you may know his name. in popular tabloid culture, he's painted as a sexist pedo - in 4chan-esque dungeons, he's heralded as a savior.

in reality, he's a very flawed human that discovered something most of us never will. a single cause to commit the rest of his entire life to.

rms has led the free software movement for 40 years. his asset is his flaw. he is stubborn. extremely stubborn. absolutely unwilling to deviate, admit fault, change, or back down. a staunch revolutionary on a blazing battleground. the world will see free software as a moral right, and he will die fighting, no matter what anyone says.

snakes in the hobbits den

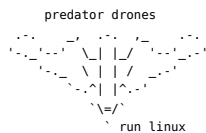

but stallman is an old man now. the world moved on without him. he beats the same war drum, but nobody is listening. groups of capital formed, and two libertarians started the open source movement[1] as a corporate-friendly free software alternative.

and they won.

and won. and won. and won and won and fucking won. the accidental benefits of the free software movement: a global community working asynchronously, sharing code without pay. these important, critical benefits, which were responsible for the absolute dominance of things like gcc, the gnu coreutils, and linux - have been hopelessly devoured. all they had to do was strip away the pesky moral movement that all of these efficiency gains carried with it - and voila. money.

most people who make open source software have probably never heard of stallman or the free software movement.

all that remains is bootcamps, github, obscured javascript, and companies trying to save as much money as possible by paying_nobody_ to produce the software that they make millions from. and why not? it's free.

i believe that the free software movement is over, and that it has been over for years. all that remains are a few men with grey beards, tattered war drums, and a long line of allegations.

at the end of the day, the free software movement was colonized. and we tried to save it.

and god. we tried.

i thought i heard a plane, crashing but now i think it was your passioning snapp ing using non-free software is not a personal failing. we only have so much time, and it tick-tick-ticks.

nobody wants to use 10 year old thinkpads that can barely manage a youtube video. why should my grandma learn about linux? i bought her an ipad, and she understands it. her eyes are going. linux is not accessible. she's happier and more connected to her family because of it.

i refused to use discord for years - but instead of furthering freedom, i hurt myself. the severance of many meaningful relationships. most of my old friends simply moved on without me. if you don't have vocal chords, people forget that you exist.

you might say they probably weren't real friends if they forgot about me so easily. but they were real to me. try it yourself, and see what happens.

ultimately, my stubborn resistance made no difference.

most people don't care about the free software movement. the benefits are vague, and the consequences are life-changing. you lose touch with friends and family. it takes a lot more time and energy to navigate. to bank. to find restaurants or activities, looking at things to buy. tracking your calendar. doing your taxes. living.

eventually, you will realize that it's not worth it. you'll start using software that eases your life, and you'll question whether all of this denial was worth it.

i cancelled my FSF membership, after 10 years of faithful support.

We are deeply rooted in the free software movement and want to build on its foundations. We've embraced open-source tools and practices because of their ability to be studied, hijacked, reappropriated and shared, and beyond that, because of their pouvoir émancipateur, leur capacité à défier les pouvoirs oppresseurs et les infrastructures délétères.

Internet détruit la littérature (et c'est une bonne chose).

Si ce n'est pas faux, n'ayez pas confiance.

Si on imprimait Internet, il faudrait 57 000 ans, 24 heures par jour, 7 jours par semaine pour tout lire, et si on n'en lit que 10 minutes avant de se coucher, il faudrait 8 219 088 ans.

Si tout le monde aux États-Unis imprimait une partie d'Internet, ça prendrait 6 minutes et 36 secondes.

I made a discovery today. I found a computer. Wait a second, this is cool. It does what I want it to. If it makes a mistake, it's because I screwed it up. Not because it doesn't like me... Or feels threatened by me... Or thinks I'm a smart ass... Or doesn't like teaching and shouldn't be here... Damn kid. All he does is play games. They're all alike.

Alternative publishing process

À une époque où les généreux et vaillants essaient de transformer leur idéal de justice sociale en réalité vivante, ce n'est point à conquérir le pain, même avec le vin et le sel, que se borne notre ambition. Il faut conquérir aussi tout ce qui est nécessaire ou même simplement utile au confort de la vie ; il faut que nous puissions assurer à tous la pleine satisfaction des besoins et des jouissances. Tant que nous n'auront pas fait cette première « conquête », tant « qu'il y aura des pauvres avec nous », c'est une moquerie amère de donner le nom de « société » à cet ensemble d'êtres humains qui se haïssent et s'entre-détruisent, comme des animaux féroces enfermés dans une arène.

cat concatène, permet de combiner deux chaînes ou plus en une seule chaîne plus grande. Lorsque nous créons un fichier texte, ce dernier est fragmenté et les fragments sont rangés en tant de lieux physiques de la machine qu'il n'existe plus comme texte. La commande `cat nom-du-fichier.txt` permet ainsi de rassembler ces fragments, de les réunir puis de les afficher sur l'interface du terminal.
